The American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics is Tri-State's student branch of a national organization which was founded in 1963. The national organization is this country's principal Aerospace Technical Society.

On a local level, students can gain practical knowledge as well as theoretical approaches to the field through informal discussions as well as the speeches and demonstrations given by a variety of guest speakers. Field trips give an added dimension, as members can see first hand, what they may soon be facing in their careers. Keeping up to date and well informed is of primary importance in this every changing and expanding field. Tri-State's branch has been successful in keeping its members aware and active.

The Greek image has changed considerably in the last few years. Gone are the days of the crew neck sweater and the crew cut hair. Nowadays you are likely to see long hair and faded jeans, even during that holy of holies, Rush. The apathy is gone too, Greeks, who used to be thought of only as party organizations, have become just as involved, if not more, in community action as the various service clubs are on campus.

For example, it is a policy of the I.F.C. in a combined effort, term after term, to collect money by donations for the March of Dimes, Cancer Society, and United Heart Fund just to name a few needy organizations. Raising money through the I.F.C. is only one way Greeks help, not to mention the individual efforts of each house towards community services.

This is not to say Greeks don't have a good time anymore, the Happy-Hours continue, toilet paper still hangs from trees in front of the Houses (after those midnight raids) and Greek Week still generates as much enthusiasm as ever. Fraternities are on the upswing! It looks like the future will continue to hold just as much satisfaction for Greeks then, as it does for Greeks now.

The exotic dinner started with Chinese Eggrolls, soup from Kenya, a Greek salad and potato salad, followed by entrees from Afghanistan, Iraq, Kuwait, Thailand, India, Iran, France and Bangladesh, Dinner was complete with delightful desserts from the Philipines, Germany and Lebanon.

Following the dinner, guests were treated to a fashion show and selections of music from various countries. A demonstration of the Chinese Martial Arts was also presented.

Original displays of handicrafts and novelties were on display for everyone to enjoy.

chi epsilon

Jim Richter strums a familiar tune for his pledge skit at the initiation banquet.

In 1966 Dr. George F. Hauck was instrumental in founding Sigma Chi Epsilon, a local civil engineering fraternity. As membership and interest grew, the fraternity became a chapter of Chi Eta, the National Honorary, in 1973 and our Tri-State chapter holds this status today.

The main function of the honorary is to recognize and aid the development of achievements made by our civil engineers. The honorary also encourages further study at the doctoral level.

Outstanding academic and leadership qualities in the field are criteria for election, and members come from the upper third of both the junior and senior classes. Meetings were interesting as well as informative this year.

The honorary engineering society, Tau Sigma Eta, became a state recognized organization back in 1930. Since then, the appearance of its members may have changed, but the ideals, requirements and the great honor that it holds are still basically the same. Election into the society is the highest honor an engineering student can attain.

The honorary has come a long way since its founding days. Today members take an active roll serving the campus. Members operate a used bookstore which is available to both students and faculty.

soccer stars have super season

The Trojan kickers completed their second straight winning season and placed fourth in the conference standings. The season saw the team outscore their opponents 24-19 with Dan Degnan scoring five goals and Billy Richardson, the most valuable player scoring eleven.

The season record was 7-4-1 and the conference season went 3-3 with Marion, Goshen and Grace all tieing at 5-1 for the championship.

Goalie Bob Irwin joined Richardson on the All Conference Team and Dan Degnan was given honorable mention. Ed Plockmeyer and Dennis Dervay were named to the senior All Star North Team and helped the North Squad win the State Tournament.

The intense concentration and the spontaneous reactions of goalie Bob Irwin earned him a coveted position on the all conference team.

Front Row: T. Parlette and K. Spicker. Second: Coach Lansford, N. Leach, G. Feller, M. Vendl. Back Row: R. Schnieders, R. Tagliaferri, K. Peterson.

The 1974 fencing team put forth an outstanding effort, and broke several school records. The most win's record of 42 wins was broken by epeeman Rick Tagliaferri who took home the most wins trophy. The epee team established a new record for the most wins, with a 15-8 record. The women's fencing team is strong enough to start winning, as well. Best of all, it is a young team and will only lose senior epeeman Bruce Holbrook for the 1975 season. Womens Fencing should be strong, having the experience of Nancy Leach, the first woman to letter in an intervarsity sport at Tri-State, and Grace Feller coming back.

The epee team made a clean sweep of the honors for the team. Karl Spicker was awarded the MacLaughlin Trophy for outstanding fencer, as well as the armourers award, and Bruce Holbrook was voted the Robert Heaslett Memorial Award for epee.

The team also competed in the Great Lakes Collegiate Fencing Tournament, placing 8 out of 11. Sabreman, Kim Peterson was the only fencer to make it into the semi-finals.

hard work, and perfection characterize trojan netmen

Coach Peterman turned the loss of five seniors from the 1972-73 team into another Mid-Central Conference Championship.

The first week in January saw the team sport a 3-9 record and 1-2 conference record. They quickly won eleven straight games and and their eighth straight MCC Title. Finishing the season 17 and 14 and 10 to 2 in the MCC and representing the conference in the playoffs the Trojans defeated Marian at Indianapolis and finished runner up to Hanover in the championship game.

Bob Bryant, who was named to the Indiana All Star Team, became the all time leading scorer for the Trojans with 1983 points for his three years at Tri-State. He along with sophomore Rex Holmes were named to the all MCC Team. Bryant was named most valuable player and freshman John Peters received a rebounding trophy. Charlie Ross won the Free Throw Award shooting 90%.

BELOW: The basketball team's shooting ability prevailed throughout the year as the statistics show they averaged a win margin of 7 points. ABOVE: The Team spirit, a demanding characteristic of a championship squad, was always present at Tri-State. The 1974 baseball team travelled farther and won more games than any previous Tri-State team. The final season record saw the Trojans with an 18-10 mark and co-champions in the Mid-Central Conference with Huntington.

The 10-2 conference record was the best ever for a Trojan team. Five men were placed on the All Conference Team with freshman Joe Corry taking a pitching spot. Chris Nipple was named top first baseman and Doug DeGroff top short stop. Charlie Ross and Gary Younce were named to the outfield, rounding out the selections.

Ross led the active hitters with a .420 average and the team as a whole had a .299 batting average. Corry was 6-1 on the season and Denny Boley was 5-2 to lead the pitching staff. Corry recorded a 1.58 ERA and Boley finished with a 2.25 ERA.

The spring trip took the team to Orlando, Florida, where they won three of eight games. The games in Macon, Georgia, with Mercer University were the only ones to count on the NAIA schedule.

1974 was another successful track season for the Trojans as they defeated 26 teams of the 30 they met. During the season 12 of the 18 school records were broken. A fine young crop of freshmen pushed the upper class men to their bests.

The squad won their second Grace Relays title and finished second in the ten team state meet. In the Mid-Centeral Conference meet the Trojans rolled up 104 points. Goshen was a distant second with 57.

Coach Gollnick was named coach of the year in the Mid-Centeral Conference and Tim Boeckman, John Sawyer, Leo Dawson, Mike Wachtman, Rex Holmes, Mike Wagner, and Scott Powell were all named with him to the All Conference Team.

Holmes, Sawyer, Stan Harris and Powell all competed in the national track meet in Arkansas.

The young, talented Tri-state golf team capped a very successful season by winning the NAIA district 21 championship at Old Oakland Country Club in Indianapolis. The team, led by senior Doug Booth's brilliant 69, scored 301 to shade runner-up Taylor University and the rest of the field by three shots. Representing Indiana in the national tournament at Aberdeen, S.D., Tri-State finished 24th in the nation. Doug Booth finished among the top 20 individuals out of a field of 183. Booth and John Hardin won all NAIA district 21 honors in 1974.

During the regular season, the Trojans captured their 15th straight MCC crown as they completed an undefeated match play season. Booth, Dave Rowe, Gary Jones, John Hardin and Mel Thomas were named to the all MCC team.

Tri-State's overall match play record included 16 wins and 3 losses. The Trojans set a new team competition course record in the Tri-State Invitational by placing first with 374.

Tri-State finished third in the I.U.P.U. Invitational and fourth in the Saginaw Valley Invitational; Doug Booth won runner-up honors with a 75 at I.U.-P.U., and overwhelmed the field at Saginaw by firing a 72 on the extremely demanding Bay Valley Golf Course.

Doug Booth, after record setting performance during his four varsity seasons, announced plans to turn professional immediately after the national tournament.

This years cross country team experienced a rebuilding year, but finished with a 9-2 over all record and second place in the Mid-Central Conference as the freshman members of the team met the challenge early.

Leo Dawson finished six meets as the first Trojan runner to cross the finish line and got some keen competition from freshman team mate, Mike Wachtman who was first in three meets.

Marion College in their first year in the MCC wrestled the title away from the Trojans in the conference meet with a 31-34 squeker at Huntington. Grace College finished third in the meet with 74 points and Huntington managed fourth with 94. The conference gave the sport varsity stats for the 1974 season and the results will be figured in the All Sports Trophy Race.

Top finishers for the squad this season were Dawson, Wachtman, Lee Davies, Dave Riggs, Jim Walas, Tom Deardorff and Terry Frazier, who won the MCC junior varsity meet. Dawson placed third in the MCC varsity meet followed by Wachtman fifth, Davies sixth, Riggs eighth and Walas eleventh. Four made the All Conference team and Walas missed it by just 13 seconds.
